INTRODUCTION

I am a British freelance Graphic Designer and Branding Consultant based in Los Angeles, California.

I have over 25 years experience working with the world's leading brands and have collaborated with some of the best design agencies around the globe. My expertise extends over a wide range of design disciplines.

For the last 6 years I have been based in Los Angeles where I mainly focus on brand creation, development and implementation. Prior to this I freelanced in London for 15 years, completing a number of high profile packaging and brand projects. My early career was spent working in Dubai and Rome at DMB&B, which at the time was the world's largest advertising agency.

Recently I acted as Agency of Record for AIGA Los Angeles, responsible for design and production of event assets including social media graphics, emailers and posters.

EXPERIENCE

During my 25 year career I have helped develop more than 200 brands and worked with over 75 leading design agencies, here is a brief summary of my expertise, along with some of the brands and agencies I have worked with.
